

Prof. Dr. Mohammed Saleh Al-Shanti
Chairman of the Board of Trustees
STARDOM University

Biography

- Prof. Dr. Mohammed Saleh Al-Shanti is a distinguished scholar, academic leader, and literary critic with more than five decades of contributions to higher education, Arabic language studies, and modern literary criticism.
- He holds a Ph.D. in Arabic Language and Literature from Cairo University, Egypt, where his doctoral research focused on modern Arabic fiction. Throughout his academic career, he has played a significant role in advancing Arabic literary studies, curriculum development, academic leadership, and scholarly research.
- Professor Al-Shanti served as Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, and later senior academic leader at several higher education institutions across the Arab world. He chaired the Department of Arabic Language for more than twenty-three years and contributed extensively to academic quality, faculty development, postgraduate supervision, and research excellence.
- A prolific author and researcher, he has published numerous books and scholarly works in Arabic literature, literary criticism, children's literature, Saudi literature, rhetoric, and language studies. His publications have become valuable references for students and researchers throughout the Arab region.
- As Chairman of the Board of Trustees of STARDOM University, Prof. Al-Shanti provides strategic guidance in academic governance, institutional development, quality assurance, and international academic engagement. His vision supports excellence in education, research innovation, and the preservation of Arabic and Islamic intellectual heritage.

Areas of Expertise

- Arabic Language and Literature
- Modern Literary Criticism
- Contemporary Arabic Literature
- Cultural Studies
- Higher Education Leadership
- Academic Governance
- Curriculum Development
- Research Supervision
- Quality Assurance in Higher Education

Academic Qualifications

- Ph.D. in Arabic Language and Literature, Cairo University, Egypt (1983)
- M.A. in Arabic Language and Literature, Cairo University, Egypt (1974)
- B.A. in Arabic Language and Literature, Cairo University, Egypt (1968)

Academic Leadership

- Chairman of the Board of Trustees, STARDOM University

- Former Head of the Department of Arabic Language (23 Years)
- Associate Professor and Academic Leader in Higher Education Institutions
- Visiting Professor at the Islamic University of Madinah
- Faculty Member at several universities in Saudi Arabia and Jordan

Selected Publications

- Modern Arabic Literary Criticism
- Saudi Literature
- Children's Literature
- Ancient Arabic Literature (Two Volumes)
- Modern Arabic Literature
- The Migrant Poem
- Literary Studies
- Arabic Writing Skills

Academic Contributions

- Supervision and examination of Master's and Ph.D. theses
- Participation in national and international academic conferences
- Membership in scientific and cultural committees
- Judge and evaluator for literary and academic awards
- Publication of numerous peer-reviewed research papers and scholarly studies

Strategic Vision

To position STARDOM University among the leading internationally recognized universities by promoting academic excellence, institutional sustainability, innovation-driven education, and global partnerships. The vision emphasizes strengthening governance frameworks, advancing research and knowledge production, embracing digital transformation, and preparing future leaders capable of addressing the challenges of an evolving global society.

Through strategic leadership and institutional oversight, the Board of Trustees seeks to ensure that STARDOM University remains a catalyst for educational advancement, societal development, and international collaboration.